

Seeds of Sadness

When I look at the world I wonder what we have done we have sown the seeds of sadness from when the world began.

If only we could start again and make things right this time But no we must move forward into the light from were we came.